1. Aims

The aims of relationships and sex education (RSE) at our school are to:

- Provide a framework in which sensitive discussions can take place
- Prepare pupils to treat others with respect with a view to promoting equality
- Prepare pupils for puberty, and give them an understanding of sexual development and the importance of health and hygiene
- Help pupils develop feelings of self-respect, confidence and empathy
- Create a positive culture around issues of sexuality and relationships
- Teach pupils the correct vocabulary to describe themselves and their bodies

2. Statutory requirements

As a primary academy school we must provide relationships education to all pupils as per section 34 of the Children and Social work act 2017.

We do not have to follow the National Curriculum but we are expected to offer all pupils a curriculum that is similar to the National Curriculum including requirements to teach science which would include the elements of sex education contained in the science curriculum.

In teaching RSE, we are required by our funding agreements to have regard to guidance issued by the secretary of state as outlined in section 403 of the Education Act 1996.

At St Stephen's Junior school we teach RSE as set out in this policy.

3. Policy development

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Review – Parents have the opportunity to feedback on new guidance.
2. Staff consultation – all school staff were given the opportunity to look at the policy and make recommendations
3. Parent/stakeholder consultation – parents and any interested parties were invited to review and feedback about the policy
4. Pupil consultation – a pupil focus group was used to ensure that future plans incorporated their requirements.
5. Ratification – once amendments were made, the policy was shared with governors and ratified

4. Definition

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, conception and the changes your body goes through as you get older, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

5. Curriculum

Our curriculum is set out as per Appendix 1 (Jigsaw Overview) but we may need to adapt it as and when necessary.

At St Stephen's we will be using the Jigsaw curriculum to teach both RSE and PHSE. This meets all the statutory requirements for RSE and health and is a positive and mindful way to ensure all pupils are able to build on their understanding and knowledge of concepts throughout the school.

Based on feedback from staff, parents and pupils this curriculum represents what we believe that pupils need within our school, taught in a mindful way. The curriculum has been carefully developed to ensure that sensitive issues are dealt with correctly, which supports and guides teachers when answering more challenging questions.

Primary sex education is not compulsory in primary schools, however we feel that it is appropriate to teach this at St Stephen's Junior School for the benefit of our pupils.

Primary sex education will focus on:

- Preparing boys and girls for the changes that adolescence brings
- How a baby is conceived and born

For more information about our curriculum, see our curriculum map in Appendix 1.

6. Delivery of RSE

RSE is taught within the personal, social, health and economic (PSHE) education curriculum.

Relationships education focuses on teaching the fundamental building blocks and characteristics of positive relationships including:

- Families and people who care for me
- Caring friendships

- Respectful relationships
- Online relationships
- Being safe
- Sex education

These statutory units are incorporated within the Jigsaw curriculum outlined in Appendix 1.

Sex education is also covered as part of the Yr 5 science curriculum.

These areas of learning are taught within the context of family life taking care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances (families can include single parent families, LGBT parents, families headed by grandparents, adoptive parents, foster parents/carers amongst other structures) along with reflecting sensitively that some children may have a different structure of support around them (for example: looked after children or young carers).

7. Roles and responsibilities

7.1 The governing board

The teaching and learning committee will approve the RSE policy, and hold the headteacher to account for its implementation.

7.2 The headteachers

The headteachers are responsible for ensuring that RSE is taught consistently across the school, and for managing requests to withdraw pupils from [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE (see section 8).

7.3 Staff

- Staff are responsible for:
- Delivering RSE in a sensitive way
- Modelling positive attitudes to RSE
- Monitoring progress
- Responding to the needs of individual pupils
- Responding appropriately to pupils whose parents wish them to be withdrawn from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of RSE

Staff do not have the right to opt out of teaching RSE. Staff who have concerns about teaching RSE are encouraged to discuss this with the headteacher.

All class teachers are responsible for the teaching of RSE and PHSE within the school.

The subject leader is delegated the responsibility of ensuring the implementation of the RSE and PHSE curriculum.

7.4 Pupils

Pupils are expected to engage fully in RSE and, when discussing issues related to RSE, treat others with respect and sensitivity.

8. Parents' right to withdraw

Parents do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education.

Parents have the right to withdraw their children from the [non-statutory/non-science] components of sex education within RSE.

Requests for withdrawal should be put in writing using the form found in Appendix 3 of this policy and addressed to the headteacher.

Alternative work will be given to pupils who are withdrawn from sex education.

9. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of their induction and it is included in our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher will also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE.

10. Monitoring arrangements

The delivery of RSE is monitored by Kate Chatfield through:

Reviewing delivery and planning of the PHSE and RSE curriculum along with learning walks and pupil voice surveys.

Pupils' development in RSE is monitored by class teachers as part of our internal assessment systems.

This policy will be reviewed by L Cutts/ S Heaney – Headteachers.

At every review, the policy will be approved by the Governing body/ Teaching and learning committee.
